Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 03-14-2007 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.

4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 38-41 and 43-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hojeibane-5911732.

Hojeibane discloses a stent having both serpentine sections and coiled sections. As previously outlined in the last office action, and not argued by the applicant, the stent has each of the required sections and curved portions. However, the coiled segments being longer than the serpentine segments is not disclosed. As previously stated it would have been obvious to have made the coiled sections longer as Hojeibane discloses that the coiled sections can be varied to increase flexibility. It would have been obvious to have provided only a single coiled section between end serpentine sections in the event that the stent were short. Also disclosed is that the diameter and the length can be varied. The specifics of the claimed diameter and length are not critical as the applicant discloses a large range for both of these dimensions, and therefore, the examiner contends that making the prior art stent in the claimed dimensions would have been an obvious design choice as the claimed dimension is not critical, does not solve any particular problem, is not for any particular purpose and the prior art dimension would perform equally as well.

Art Unit: 3731

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 03-14-2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With respect to applicant's arguments that the prior art does not disclose that either the coil segment is balloon expandable and the serpentine segment is self-expanding, or the coil segment is self-expanding and the serpentine segment is balloon expandable. However, the examiner contends that since the prior art stent is either balloon expandable or self-expanding, the limitation is met, because a self-expanding stent can be expanded by a balloon if one so desired. Therefore, a self-expanding stent could use a balloon to expand regions (serpentine); and the other segments (coiled) could still be self-expanded by heat, for example.
